Cub Scout Training

This month's Roundtable is all about training. Having trained leaders is the foundation for a good scouting experience and it's required as well. Training courses are available online any time, or you can attend the various training sessions that either the Council or District holds.

The District will be having Leader training on Sept. 22nd at the Brownsburg LDS church. If you would rather attend training in person instead of online this is a great resource to get that training completed.

The Council will also be holding their University of Scouting, one of the premier training events in the council, is one of the easiest ways for you to achieve this goal. This single-day training event, offered by the Crossroads of America Council, is designed to supplement any Scouter's training. Any Scout leader may attend. Courses specific to Cub Scouting have "C" added to their Course ID. Link to the training is here: University of Scouting. The pack highly encourages everyone to attend this training, it's a great time!
